Welcome to the Kingdom of fantasy and satisfaction ruled by the one and only:

CORTANA

Her turquoise bob, perfect breasts and jaw-dropping ass, are sure to turn the heads of anyone who dares enter her realm!
She is a soft spoken and serene woman,
but as the ruler of her own domain,
there is no doubt she will have you worshipping every inch of her perfection the minute you feast your eyes on her captivating persona!

BOW DOWN!

You are a beautiful boss lady with a natural dominance to your personality. Always being in charge of your own destiny must make it very hard for anyone to walk over you.

In other words, the powerful traits you bestow work in your favor especially within the adult industry. On the contrary, you also have a friendly, flirty side.

How do you maintain the balance between the professional Cortana, and the wild laughter loving Cortana we see on screen?

Cortana- I've always had a really strong side to my personality, and much of that comes from how I was raised. Both of my parents were always super tough, especially my dad. Really strong work ethic, and that kinda rubbed off on me.

While I usually come off as a hard ass to most people, deep down, the people who know me well, know that I'm pretty soft.

I maintain that balance by always remembering that this is business, and while I'm here to have fun, I'm not here to be taken advantage of.

“While I usually come off as a hard ass to most people, deep down, the people who know me well, know that I’m pretty soft.”

Speaking of your role in the adult industry, how did you fall into your career as a webcam model and at the end of the day, would you say that you chose the wonderful world of webcam, or did it choose you?

Cortana- Before camming, I worked with video games. A strong female in a male dominated world, much like the adult industry. I hate to say this because it sounds gross when I think about it, but my sexuality definitely helped me to be successful even back then. I was always the “hot girl who worked at the video game store”. And now I’m the hot girl who knows her shit about video games, but also does pornography.

My boyfriend is a photographer, and when we met I started nude modelling. After months of posting nude photos online, he suggested I started doing cam modelling. One day I tried it, and here I am almost 2 years later. I feel like I’ve always been made for this industry.

Anyone who has ever been in your room while you are online has surely had a great time. There is nothing quite like a smiling and down-to-earth girl with a stunning body who is willing to share her body and mind with those who support her. Can you tell us an interesting story about something that happened while online that you will never, ever forget?

Cortana- It took me awhile to think of this answer, because every single night I'm on cam, things happen that I'll never forget. But, something that always makes me giggle was a night where we happened to hit an outrageous number of tokens and I was FINALLY about to do a cum show. Everyone was super excited, as was I, because I had gotten a couple new toys or something. Right as I am getting down to work, one of my long time members (SB is his username) CUM BANNED ME. For the first time ever! I've never been cum banned before. I was shocked to say the least. Then, another member tipped to counter cum ban me, and SB cum banned me AGAIN. It was hilarious.

“Every single night I’m on cam, things happen that I’ll never forget”

It's no wonder you have so many loyal fans.
Your aura of confidence both online and offline is insanely alluring, almost like a dominatrix with a softer appearance.
Is that how you view yourself as well or do you see something else?

Cortana- I want to say yes, but in my heart I actually see myself as a FRIEND to my loyal fans.
I'm only really tough on the fuck boys, or people who try and start problems in my chatroom. Though,
I could definitely see myself as a dominatrix at some point in the future.

We had such a wonderful time at the photo shoot and working with you was a real treat!
What was running through your mind as you lay out fully nude on that sexy motorcycle?

Cortana- I've never used a prop like a motorcycle before.
I kept on thinking how amazing and cool it would be to take it out for a wild and crazy ride!

Can you share with our readers your favorite,
most memorable sexual memory ever?

“Believe it or not,
I like to keep my sex life private -
I never kiss and tell!”
-Cortana

It's not hard to see that you love what you do and enjoy your work in all of its glory!
What type of vids would you say you have the most fun creating?

Cortana- This is going to sound NUTS, but I actually really stress out when it comes to making content.
I am so much more natural live on cam with an audience watching me, rather than recording myself alone with no one to talk to haha.
A couple of my videos were actually filmed by my boyfriend, and THOSE are my favorite because I have someone to direct me, tell me what looks good, has the ability to shoot different angles, etc.

Do you have any big plans for your future in the industry or perhaps some dreams for future accomplishments?
Where will Cortana Blue go next?

Cortana- I would like to expand my video collection and experiment with new things, maybe even do some b/g content. In this industry its always important to push yourself and your boundaries. I don't see myself diving into professional pornography in a studio ever, but it would be great to shoot some "less amateur" content. I'll always strive to better myself, especially in my webcam modelling.

You reside in Toronto and are an avid Blue Jays fan!
What do you enjoy most about being a Canadian cutie and living in a proud and humble nation like the The Great White North?

Cortana-
I love my country's ability to accept everyone, and everything.

You have many passions aside from being the XXX superstar you are.
You study insects, watch sports, play guitar, model, and even enjoy cosplay.
Are there any less known passions or talents you possess that we aren't yet aware of?

Cortana-

My number one passion is video games; my name comes from the game Halo.
I have 4 video game related tattoos, and I'm currently working on an entire sleeve.

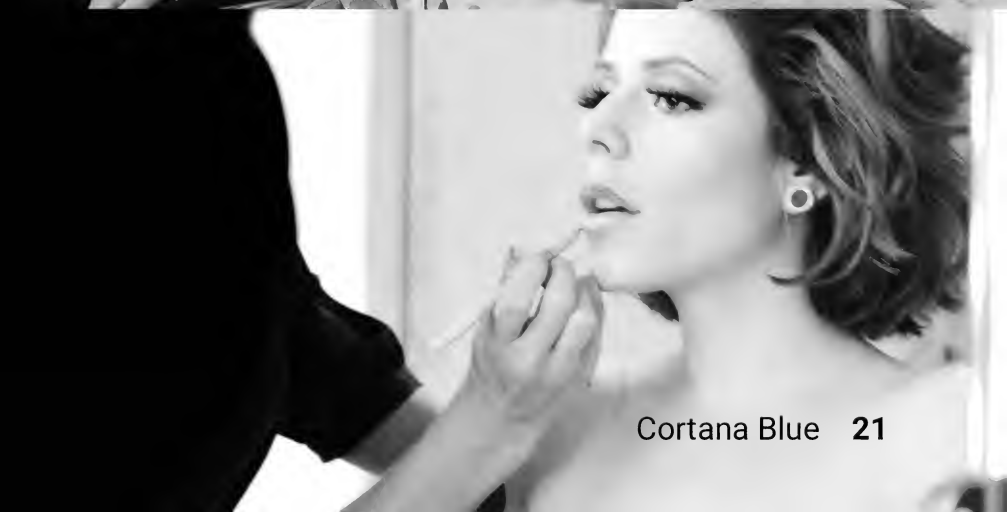

I've recently discovered I'm quite good at being a mother to orchids,

I have a huge collection now that continues to grow.

I'm an open book when it comes to my life, I share almost everything with everyone.

I don't really think there are any talents I'm hiding! haha

Modern Day Porn: the camgirl is here to stay

The other day I was at a bridal shower and the subject of camming came up. As one of the fastest growing private sectors, “DIY Porn” has quickly blossomed from a small independent trade pursued by a brave few to a full-on industry represented (by both performers and clients) by the masses. A generation ago, when the Suicide Girls were not yet a household name and not everyone had a webcam (or an internet connection, for that matter) very little was known about this line of work and it disappoints me to say that the same lack of understanding applies today.

The sex worker stigma is very much alive, and if we take no efforts to dismantle the preconceptions, it will remain so. “I’m just glad I was raised to have higher standards than these poor girls, I just feel terrible for them” says one woman, a loan officer for a large bank, in debt upwards of 55k for her business degree and currently making a living earning huge commissions by fudging stats to approve high-risk loans to struggling blue collar middle classers, many of whom will lose their collateral (including their homes) as a result of their inability to pay back the way-out-of-their-income-range interest rates. Another, a corrections worker subjected to sexist remarks by both prisoners and colleagues alike on a fairly regular basis and spending upwards of 10 hours a day in a dark, dank, windowless prison chimes in “I see these girls (she means sex workers) in my programs sometimes and it’s just so sad”.

While they seem sincerely saddened by what they mistakenly presume to be an industry hell-bent on exploiting and pressuring women to become slaves/victims/villains, what’s truly tragic to me is their ignorance, caused by their utter lack of knowledge about the camming world. Working as a staff member of MV, I was glad to have a platform through which to enlighten them.

What I see when I look at cam girls is this: Girls as young as 18 who have already learned the priceless art of time management, of promotion and marketing, of recordkeeping, of the importance of producing quality over quantity, of not spreading themselves too thin, of being bold enough to not take any crap yet charming enough to gain a following in what can sometimes be a cut-throat and highly competitive industry. They are self-taught businesswomen, and they prove that being lewd has no bearing on one’s ability to be shrewd. I know 50 year old CEO’s of large corporations who still haven’t learned these skills, and business owners with fancy degrees who don’t run their operations as efficiently as some of these girls and who require entire teams of people just to produce mediocre results. Dealing with models on a regular basis I find them to be some of the most articulate, charming, confident and strongest women I have ever had the pleasure of interacting with. Women putting themselves through graduate school, women risking their lives to serve their countries in combat, women raising children on their own, women like you and I, ambitious, clever, hard-working, deserving. Cam work is so much more than turning on a cam and putting on a show, so much more than learning which programs to use, how to edit and control lighting and apply make-up. It’s creating a persona, a niche, a world in which your clients can take comfort and refuge from the stresses of their daily life. It takes endurance, devotion, creativity, not to mention the thick skin you need to develop to endure some of the less-than-pleasant interactions you will face as a result of this profession.

My own previous assumptions that camgirls would likely be insecure, downtrodden and easily influenced was shattered almost immediately upon interacting with the first few models I spoke to. Here were ladies who were in full control of their careers: independent, confident, composed, capable women making excellent money to produce the type of content they want, when they want, at the prices they want. Happy, healthy looking girls, in total control of everything from their shoots to their pricing to their schedules. Camgirls typically enjoy more freedom, more financial success and, ironically, more protection than 9-5 button-up types, in the sense that they can report aggressive/inappropriate behaviours to staff for an immediate resolution and not have to fear reprisal by presenting a case to HR which is, in the corporate world, reviewed by several departments until the miniscule possibility of a resolution is made available (often one which comes at the cost of one’s ability to move up in the company.) There are, as in any industry, broken women, women who feel trapped and who do not enjoy such success, however this is as tragic as it is common in any career setting. A woman at a corporate Christmas party is exposed to a higher risk of sexual assault than a cam girl performing from the safety of her home. Looking down on women who choose this profession is ignorant at best and asinine at worst.

To the ladies out there being judged and criticized for their career choice: please know that you are admired, respected and appreciated by those of us who understand this line of work and all the sacrifices you have made to pursue it, and understand that, for the most part, those who judge and criticize often do so from a place of nurture and concern (and sometimes jealousy) as they do not understand what working as a camgirl entails. And to the ladies out there judging: There is nothing vile or vulgar about a girl who sells intimacy. In fact, many clients prefer a connection over “just sex” which they can find with the click of a button for free. To feel that this line of work somehow compromises one’s integrity or makes one somehow indecent or exploited is to fail to understand the very nature of this job: to create an environment in which clients, a great deal of whom are just lonely and looking to communicate with someone, get to escape the monotony of their daily grinds and to indulge in fantasy. And who doesn’t benefit from a little fantasy every now and then?

Hey! Nova Patra here,
Your fav Asian cam girl and independent vid producer!
I'm a Chinese girl from Canada who is free-spirited and enjoys a life of open and unrepressed sexuality.
I love the freedom I have as a content creator. Everyday is a new adventure!
I am best known for my hyper-reality and gaming themed XXX vids.
I like making content that pushes the boundaries of people's expectations.
In August, one of my vids was ripped from ManyVids and went completely viral.
It was so realistic that it caught the attention of millions of gamers who thought I had masturbated live on Twitch.TV.

Of course it was just a simulation designed to titillate the Twitch community.
Let's just say my plan worked perfectly and I'm thrilled that a lot more gamers now know about me.

Now, I want to be a full-time vid producer for both MV and Youtube!

You'll definitely be seeing a lot more of me...
